

"PEEPING JACK" ARRESTED HERE

Inquisitive Stranger Held for Peering in Windows of Tulsa Homes.

"Jack the peeper," has again appeared in Tulsa. Answering a call to police headquarters from a private watchman employed near Seventh and Main, Motocycle Officer Wade Four and C. L. Sanders found a man about 21 years old, bearded and in tattered overalls peeping through the windows of several palatial residences in that neighborhood. The man was taken to police headquarters where it was learned that several similar calls have been received from various parts of the city during the past week in which the same man has been found watching about in select sections peering near houses where a glimmer of soft light disclosed a dressing room, a bath or some other intimate part of the household. "Jack" hailed from St. Joseph, Mo., and his relatives are named "Ringo," he says. Police were unable to learn the man's own name, due to his professed stupidity. He makes his home in the police court room, pending his being shipped to other parts.

OPTIMISTIC OVER MEXICO

W. H. Rogers Believes Southern Neighbor is on Way to Peace Now.

Harry H. Rogers talked to the City club at their weekly luncheon in the Hotel Tulsa yesterday on "How the Mexican Situation Addresses Itself to a Man of the Border." "Carsona was the biggest cause for America's entry into the war," he said. "He was the biggest enemy that we have ever had and his overthrow is a good thing. Mexico from now on will have a democratic form of government and will elect its president."

Lewis Kline, county clerk, spoke on "Dairying." His subject dealt mostly with the difference in conditions in dairying present here and in the dairying business of Wisconsin. "We are going to build a milk plant here in the near future," he said, "and Tulsa people will be furnished with better milk at lower prices and more profit to the dairyman."

The committee appointed last week to raise funds for the tractor to be given the Seaport relief reported that about $125 had been contributed and that only a very small number of club members had been solicited. Confidence was expressed that the necessary fund would be raised.

BARBERS' CLUBS STOPPED

Members of Supply Dealers Association Are Enjoyed.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Local or "neighborhood" clubs formerly operated by members of the Barbers Supply Dealers Association of America in various cities throughout the country have been discontinued in compliance with a decree signed on May 7 by Federal Judge Augustus Hand in dissolution proceedings brought under the Sherman anti-trust act, it was learned today. An erroneous report, circulated at the time Judge Hand signed the decree, stated that he had ordered dissolution of the central organization of the Barbers Supply Dealers Association of America. Existence of the central organization was not affected by the decree.
